All permit fees are accumulative” & per contractor*

If the Service requires a trench inspection, and it isn't requested at the same time as the well trench inspection, or the service inspection, and an additional inspection is needed, an additional inspection fee is needed at $50.

” An example of accumulative is for a 60A to 100A service change and add new smoke detectors, that is two different types of work, thus the fee would be: $50 + $60 = $110.

* Each contractor doing electrical work on a premise needs their own permit.
